Christmas Shopping Is at Its Height

There is No Time Now For Delay—The Tardy Christmas Shoppers
Must Be Up and Doing if They Wish to Select From Complete Stocks.

Fortunately for you, several shipments of holiday goods which were ordered to be here December 1 have just put in an appearance, owing to the congested condition of the freight carriers. These goods will fill the void created in the stocks by the enormous business of the past week; but for how long we cannot say. You see, everything urges promptness on your part. We have made arrangements to care for a large concourse. The goods will be conspicuously displayed, and in enough varieties to enable you to make a choice, no matter how little the appropriation; besides, you may come here with the assurance that you will be served just as promptly and carefully as a corps of experienced salespeople can do so. If we promise to deliver your purchases at a good time, the promise will be kept, provided you will see that salespeople have your name, address, and time of delivery correct.
